

ANDREA MOO-YOUNG BERMUDEZ

Managing Director of Business Development, The Byebrook Group

Andrea Moo-Young Bermudez is currently Managing Director of Business Development for the Byebrook Group. She has three decades of financial services experience and in 2017 retired from a 20+ year international career with Citigroup where she served the firm in a variety of leadership roles across several businesses and geographies.

Prior to joining Citigroup, Ms. Moo-Young held various positions as a real estate portfolio manager at with various companies in Atlanta, New York, and London.

Ms. Moo-Young Bermudez has dual U.S. and Jamaican citizenships. She received her M.B.A. in finance and marketing from the University of Chicago Graduate School of Business and her B.B.A. from Emory University. She currently resides in Coral Gables, Florida, and College Station, Texas, with her husband Jorge and their son.