

KAORI UCHISAKA

Director, International Student Office School of Visual Arts Fulbright Grantee to Korea

As Director of the International Student Office, Kaori Uchisaka oversees immigration-advising and related support services for approximately 2,100 international students and exchange visitors at the School of Visual Arts (SVA), an established leader and innovator in the education of artists and designers. Prior to her current role, she managed the Office of Graduate Admissions. She started at SVA in the Office of Admissions processing applications and participated in several international recruitment initiatives. She is an active One To World institutional member and has been attending the monthly membership meetings since 2004.

Kaori's professional interests in intercultural competence and cross-cultural training stem from her background. Originally from Osaka, Japan, she has spent half of her life in Japan and the other half in New York City. She holds a Master of Science in Education (M.S.Ed.) in Higher Education Administration from Baruch College of the City University of New York, and a Bachelor of Fine Arts (B.F.A.) from Parsons School of Design as a Fine Arts major. She is the recipient of the International Education Administrators Fulbright Scholarship to Korea in 2011.
