

LIN REYNOLDS

Client Advisor Associate, J.P. Morgan Private Bank Financial Institutions Group

Lin Reynolds is a client advisor at J.P. Morgan Private Bank in New York. Her team advises the firm's most sophisticated international and domestic families. Lin helps clients on a variety of matters from constructing investment and liquidity portfolios, developing customized lending solutions (real estate, art, and aircraft) to establishing a robust estate plan for wealth transfer.

Lin joined J.P. Morgan in 2014 through a 2-year corporate leadership program. She gained experience in different parts of the bank, from serving as the dedicated macro research analyst for the Chief Economist, to working on the bank's mortgage credit risk team.

Born and raised in Chengdu, China, Lin came to the U.S. at the age of 15 as a high school exchange student. She later moved to Chicago, and obtained her Bachelor of Arts degree in Sociology and Anthropology at Lake Forest College. She also received her Master's degree in Economics at American University.

Being an international student herself, Lin is passionate about promoting intercultural understanding among foreign students in the U.S. and local communities. She strongly believes in One To World's mission, and hopes to use her own experience to help more international students gain vibrant experience living and studying in the U.S. She currently resides in Manhattan with her husband and two dogs.
